

The architectural floor plan illustrates a building complex with two main sections: a 'Hausmeisterwohnung' (janitor's apartment) on the left and a 'Verwaltungstrakt' (administration wing) on the right. The 'Hausmeisterwohnung' includes a kitchen, living area, and bedrooms. The 'Verwaltungstrakt' consists of several offices, a meeting room, and a reception area. The plan is detailed with room numbers, dimensions, and furniture placement. A central corridor connects the two main sections. The plan also shows various service areas, including a laundry room and a storage area. The overall layout is rectangular, with a central corridor running horizontally through the middle. The 'Hausmeisterwohnung' is located at the top left, and the 'Verwaltungstrakt' is at the top right. The plan is oriented with the main entrance at the bottom center. The drawing is a technical architectural plan, showing all structural elements and room details. The text is in German, and the dimensions are in meters. The plan is a detailed representation of the building's layout, showing the spatial organization and functional areas. The 'Hausmeisterwohnung' is a self-contained unit with its own facilities, while the 'Verwaltungstrakt' is a larger area for administrative functions. The plan is a clear and concise representation of the building's design, providing a comprehensive overview of the space.

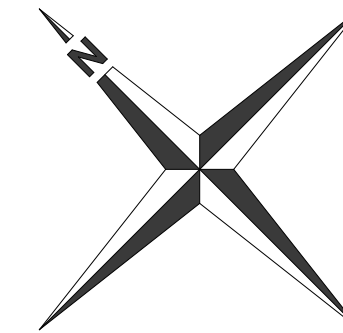

The drawing is a detailed architectural plan of a building. It features a central courtyard labeled "Kriechkeller". The plan is divided into several rooms, with dimensions and room numbers indicated. A scale bar at the top right shows a distance of 10 meters. A north arrow is located in the upper right corner. The drawing is a black and white line drawing with a grid system.
