

A small, whimsical robot constructed from various materials. It has a light-colored wooden rectangular body. On top of the body is a green, egg-shaped head. Two thin metal rods extend upwards from the back of the body, each ending in a small black circular wheel. The robot is mounted on a large, black, coiled spring. Two thin metal rods extend downwards from the bottom of the body, each ending in a small black circular wheel. The robot is positioned on a white surface.
